

January-March 4&6th researched 3D printable medicine

March 8th- branched out to new possibilities for 3D printing in healthcare and started finding information on YouTube

March 10th- began research on bioprinting (lost the document because it got deleted)
Made new document and began to reinsert information

March 12th- explored bioprinting and accumulated information from various sites and continued seeing YouTube videos

March 14th-finished off research and uploaded it onto the science fair website